

JONESearch Inc. is a retained executive search firm that specializes in placing facility management professionals nationwide. We are continuously seeking outstanding management, operations, technical and business development professionals to fill mid-management to executive-level positions related to corporate, commercial real estate, high-tech healthcare, education, pharmaceutical, and other facility environments.

Director of Plant Operations and Maintenance

This hospital has 220 beds, 220,000 square feet and is in central California. Compensation is $95K + bonus.

Job Responsibilities

- Plans, organizes, and controls functions and activities of plant operations and building renovations
- Reviews and evaluates existing programs, services, policies and procedures
- Develops, recommends to Vice President and implements or guides implementation of new and/or modified programs, services, policies and/or procedures
- Meets with Vice President-Operating Officer, medical, administrative and supervisory staff as well as community groups, agencies, contractors, architects, and engineers to plan, organize, coordinate and/or communicate programs, services, policies and/or procedures
- Monitors flow and quality of work to assure timely completion of workload and adherence to facility's standards and regulations
- Insures adequate inventories of supplies and approved requisitions for equipment, supplies, etc., as authorized
- Manages and insures compliance with JCAHO, State Health Department, EPA, DEP, ADA, UST and other regulatory business appointments

Job Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree in Engineering preferred or related fields
- Five (5) years responsibility at a director level or ten (10) years engineering, maintenance and construction experience in a health care institution preferred with related continuous education courses
- JAHCO certification
- Strong leadership and relationship building skills
- Strong P & L experience
- Seasoned manager

Please send resume to: bmartin@jonesearch.com