

IFMA OC Roundtable Discussion
11:30 am – 1:00 PM

June 22, 2006

“Preparing for Bird Flu”

This month’s Roundtable topic is a discussion of Avian Flu and what we need to do as Facilities Managers. We are going to have Joe Soter, CFM, Facilities Manager for Aerospace Corporation, with us to discuss the information he has accumulated through a number of learning sessions he has attended on the subject. Joe will also provide important handouts pertinent to this topic.

The intent of the roundtable is to share topic information with attendees who are in varying stages of preparation for this potential epidemic. We would like to hear from other FM’s who have compiled information on the subject and perhaps implemented action plans to deal with this possible pending exposure problem. If you have not prepared your facility with a plan to handle this type of event, plan to attend to hear what is being done in facilities around Orange County.

[This is the Bird Flu Virus]

Some of the discussion areas include the following:

How Do I catch the Bird Flu?

Are there any cases of bird Flu in the USA?

Is it going to arrive in the US and if so, when?

What are some of the items I should include in the plan for my facility?

Is the public health system ready for this type of pandemic?

Where can I obtain more information on Bird Flu?

Is Bird Flu just another Y2K?
